Inside The Numbers

Catterall was heading towards a fifth or sixth round stoppage when he knocked Essuman down in the waning seconds of the fourth round. At that point, Catterall held a 50-29 edge in punches landed. After the knockdown, Essuman stepped on the gas and averaged 10 punches landed over the next six rounds after averaging 7 over the first four rounds. An exhausted Catterall went for the kill in the eleventh round, landing 10 of 14 power shots and knocking Essuman into the ropes. The referee halted the bout fifty seconds into the round when it became clear Essuman was not getting up.
